

WORKMEN OF FRANCE AND ENGLAND ARE LOYAL

George L. Berry Tells of Spirit
Prevailing Among Workingmen in United States.

Knoxville, Sept. 11.—(Special).—Workmen of England and France are loyal, declared George L. Berry, president of the International Pressmen union, in denying rumors to the contrary before the convention of the Tennessee Federation of Labor here. As evidence along this line he called attention to the fact that England and France are the only nations in the world that can use, while she formerly had to purchase 60 per cent. from other nations. Appearing unexpectedly before the convention, Mr. Berry, a noted orator, captured the attention of the United States army, was given a genuine ovation. Applause and cheers lasted for several minutes, and he was cheered repeatedly.

Mr. Berry referred to the wonderful spirit now prevailing among workingmen in all parts of the United States. He said that organized labor is peaceful in intent, but that vast numbers of workmen are now in arms against a common foe or humanity, in uncompromising loyalty to the American government.

He told of his recent visit to the western battle front in Europe, where he saw millions of men in mortal combat, some fighting for freedom and others for slavery. He said he was striving for exarism and autocracy. He said that he had wondered if God would allow a nation which fights as Germany does to pass and that he was sure that the forces she is now on the defensive has partly answered his query. He told how completely Rheims, the city of churches, refinement and culture (of culture), had been so completely and wantonly destroyed by the Germans, stating that since the city was of no particular military value, he could not understand why any nation would destroy it.

"The allied nations will not sit at a table with the present rulers of the central powers," he declared. "To do so would be to encourage the very two world wars which we are now permitted to exist," he added amid deafening cheers. "Germany will have to change her form of government before she can sit at a table with any peace treaties with the allied nations."

At the suggestion of A. McAndrews, president of the Tobacco Workers' International union and representative of the union label, the delegates Tuesday afternoon stood in silence for thirty seconds in respect to the soldiers who have fallen on the European battlefields and to the industrial soldiers whose lives have been sacrificed in Tennessee industries.

State Senator Albert E. Hill announced that he had been commissioned by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to extend to each of the delegates the fraternal greetings of the federation. "Mr. Gompers is in London, England, on important business connected with war work," Senator Hill said, "and before he returns to the United States he will also visit France and Italy. This is the reason Mr. Gompers himself could not be present to extend greetings."

Van A. Bittner, president of district No. 191, United Mine Workers of America, spoke of the loyalty displayed by the miners. He also appealed to the delegates to advocate only a few vital measures before the state legislature, calling especial attention to the need for legislation to give free textbooks to school children of the state, and for a workmen's compensation act.

A report of the delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor, which opened in New York City June 1, was submitted by Jerry Williams. The report, which was read by Secretary W. C. Birnbright, showed that the federation has practically been doubled in membership since the last year. It also showed that the convention adopted the policy of "no strikes or lockouts during the war," and maintained that labor shall be allowed the right to picket. The report also showed that the policy of the national federation, as well as the various state, central and local organizations, in the war fund campaigns, was also mentioned in the report.

A banquet of the delegates was held Tuesday night at the Hotel Atkin.

AND THIS

ND THIS ATARRH RELIEVED

Catarrh is usually worse in winter because of over-heated rooms and offices, and because the low temperature prevents the little relief that healthy sweating will give. The poison vitiated air in stuffy rooms is breathed over and over—in fact, the daily habits of men and women in winter are faithful allies of this disease. As the blood circulates through the body, it carries catarrh germs into the stomach, causing chronic dyspepsia; it affects the kidneys and bladder; it weakens the general health and causes loss of appetite. The sufferer feels despondent and half-sick most of the time, but the greatest danger lies in the fact that if the catarrh is not checked, the lungs may become involved, terminating in consumption, the most insidious of all diseases.

Don't expect to permanently cure catarrh with sprays, lotions and salves or medicated cigarette smoking. They give only temporary relief. S. S. S. is the best treatment for Catarrh, because it goes right into the blood and assists in removing the catarrhal poison and at the same time builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy and not injurious to the system, like mineral medicines are.

For the benefit of those afflicted with Catarrh or other blood diseases we maintain a medical department in the charge of a specialist skilled in these diseases. Begin treatment immediately—get a bottle of S. S. S. from your druggist today, and write us fully about your case. He will give it careful study and advise the proper treatment for your own individual case free of charge. Address 415 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.—(Adv.)

Improved by Genuine Spirit of Hopefulness of Wounded.
Goes to Front.
 Paris, Sept. 10.—(Mal.-Gen. William

Gorgas, surgeon-general of the United States army, after an inspection today of the Paris military hospitals, expressed his surprise and satisfaction with the manner in which the wounded are being cared for. "The cheerfulness and commodiousness of the hospitals and the spirit of hopefulness of the wounded in the hospitals has been the most impressive thing witnessed by me since my arrival in France," said Gen. Gorgas. "It is inspiring to see the determination of the wounded to be cured and filled with real spirit and there is an atmosphere of happiness among them, although they are suffering from wounds. They are well taken care of and the work of the medical department is being pushed forward."

Gen. Gorgas will leave tomorrow to inspect the front line and rear medical units. He expects to return to Paris in next week.

John D. Ryan, assistant secretary of war, left this afternoon for a visit to the airplane training camps and aerodromes. He expects to return to Paris on Sunday.

Secretary Baker left Paris today for a conference with army officers. He will return here tomorrow for further conferences.

BENEFITS THREE IN SAME FAMILY

in Weightt.

Now Declares He Wants Others to Get the Same Benefit From It.

"When my wife first started on Tanlac she weighed only ninety-five pounds and when she finished her third bottle she tipped the beam at one hundred and thirteen," said F. L. Booth, of 201 Furnish Avenue, San Antonio, and, while remarkable, it is only one of many hundreds of wonderful endorsements that have been pub-ished in connection with the "Master Medicine." For six years," he continued, "my wife was in a general run-down condition and had no appetite. She couldn't eat meats and many other things and the gas on her stomach made her heart burn. She would almost smother to death. She was constipated all the time, had awful headaches and backache. She lost weight and got so weak and nervous she could hardly get up. I read and heard so much about it and I'll tell anybody it's good medicine, and I don't believe there's anything can come up to it. When my wife could eat anything without it hurting her and sleeping every night like a log. Her headaches, nervousness and backache were all gone and she had actually gained 25 pounds. She is now a healthy little girl, eleven and fourteen years old, who took Tanlac, too, and they just want to eat up everything. I can't begin to tell how much Tanlac has done for me. I feel like I've been reborn. There are lots of other people here who could get relief if they would only give Tanlac a fair trial."

Tanlac is sold in Chattanooga exclusively by The Live and Let Live Dispensary.
